

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides methods and compositions for increasing the rate of nail growth in mammals, especially humans, using thyromimetic compounds.

5

10